

Hackensack Meridian Health Village at Jackson

Health care today goes way beyond the walls of a hospital. That's why Hackensack Meridian Health Village at Jackson focuses on providing health care services that not only treat you when you are sick, but provide resources to stay healthy and well.

We're conveniently located at 27 South Cooks Bridge Road, Jackson, NJ 08527

It Takes A Village. (And We've Got One.)

Imagine, an entire village of health care services – all under one roof. Our facility and its extensive range of services were designed with you and your family in mind.

Our state-of-the-art medical facility offers both private health care services alongside services traditionally limited to locations within hospitals, including:
